To Whom it May Concern:

I am absolutely delighted to be able to write a letter of recommendation and support for Mackenzie England. I am a small medical business in the community and I needed a very professional web site for my new business. I was able to locate Mr. England by contacting the Multimedia Department of Lane Community College and was told that he was one of their most accomplished graduated students. He was highly recommended for this project, which required diversity in skill levels that many of the students did not possess due to the application challenges of the project itself. I also had an ambitious plan to launch 3 different teaching modules internationally on Proactive Breast Health, which would include two audio CDs, a large data disc of resource materials and a DVD. This required a combination of creative technical excellence in both web design and audio recording. I required a consultant with focus and organization that Mackenzie has in abundance. I was able to go into his sound studio to create these two educational CDs and he was able to do all the audio engineering. He is also in the process of creating the CD packaging design for the "J" card inserts for the audio product and the data disc. With his photographic background and computer skills he has created an amazing product for me.

The web site InfraredBreastHealth.com is also a marvelous creation of his, which we are now doing the final revisions on. Other medical professionals have complimented the new site that Mackenzie has developed.

Mr. England met with me the first time to understand the scope of the project and he later provided a very detailed professional business proposal of the services that he could provide and the cost structure involved. He also provided a timetable that he has met all the deadlines that he established and in many occasions was ahead of what needed to be done. He is ambitious, very pleasant to work with, and has a wonderful sense of humor that was a benefit with a large complicated project that would have worried most business owners. I found him to be diligent, efficient, detail oriented, prompt to meetings and maintained good communications with me in fixing things over the span of the project. I have been ever so pleased with his experience and knowledge base and would recommend his professional services to anyone requesting a recommendation of his work. I hope to be able to maintain his services as my Web Master for all future expansion and updates of my site and any future projects. He has made a very positive impact for my business on a multitude of levels.

Sincerely,

Ingrid L. Edstrom
